STEP BY STEP SOLUTION

On opening the given webpage the first problem we encounter is that it redirects you to a new webpage (rickroll T-T) as soon as we enter.

This can be tackled by pausing the webpage the millisecond we open it. (The sources tab in "Inspect" has this option).

Now we look around the website without being rickrolled. On looking into the cookies (in Applications tab) we find this:

Name	Value	D...	Pa...	Ex...	Size	H...	S...	Sa...	Pa...	Cr...	Pr...
isAdmin	false	ct...	/	2...	12		✓	Lax			M..

Let's set its value to true and reload to see what happens (you know, Admins usually have more control over the website):

My Secret 😊

IDC{4dm1n_1s_7he_Only_oNe_1_waNt}

And...we have the flag.

ALTERNATIVE

While we are in the Sources tab, this small javascript code snippet directly gives away the flag:

```
s.useEffect( () => {
    !async function() {
        document.cookie.split("; ").some(e => e.startsWith("isAdmin=")) || await fetch("/api/set-cookie");
        let e = await fetch("/api/check-cookie"); (await e.json()).isAdmin ? (i(!0),
            c("IDC{4dm1n_1s_7he_Only_oNe_1_waNt}")
        ) : window.open("https://youtu.be/xvFZjo5PgG0?
si=BoOw_A_slzgCOp5b", "_self")
    }()
})
```

FLAG: IDC{4dm1n_1s_7he_Only_oNe_1_waNt}
